

Texas Board of Nursing Bulletin

The mission of the Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas is to protect and promote the welfare of the people of Texas by ensuring that each person holding a license as a registered professional nurse in the State of Texas is competent to practice safely. The Board fulfills its mission through the regulation of the practice of professional nursing and the accreditation of schools of nursing. This mission, derived from Chapters 301, 303 & 304 of the Texas Occupations Code, supersedes the interest of any individual, the nursing profession, or any special interest group.

Governor Perry Appoints 12 Members to Board of Nurse Examiners

Governor Rick Perry appointed 12 members to the Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas. The Governor made the appointments pursuant to passage of House Bill 1483, enacted during the 78th Regular Texas Legislature, that combined the Board of Nurse Examiners with the Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, creating a single 13-member board. Board members appointed by the Governor serve staggered terms expiring in 2005, 2007 & 2009. Appointees to the Board of Nurse Examiners and their terms of service are:

Linda Rounds, PhD, RN, President, representing Advanced Practice Nursing, from Galveston, Term: expires January 31, 2005;

Thomas Barton, MSN, RN, representing RN Practice, from Pampa, Term: expires January 31, 2009;

Deborah Bell, CLU, ChFC, representing Consumers, from Abilene, Term: expires January 31, 2005;

Boards Merge But What Changes?

The Board of Nurse Examiners (BNE) and the Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners (BVNE) became a single board of nursing on February 1, 2004. But what does that really mean for nurses?

The single board will be known as the Board of Nurse Examiners. Although the responsibilities of the agency expand from the regulation of registered nurses and advanced practice nurses to include regulation of licensed vocational nurses, the work of the agency changes very little.

The BNE was established by the Legislature in 1909 and the BVNE was established in 1951. Both boards have done the same business throughout their history: approving nursing programs, licensing new graduates and nurses moving to Texas from other states, investigating complaints against nurses, and taking disciplinary action against licensees. These programs will continue.

House Bill 1483, the bill that created the single board of nursing, specified that the rules of the Board of Vocational Nurses become rules of the Board of Nurse Examiners and remain in effect until amended or repealed by the BNE. Rule changes will occur to streamline processes for the new agency.

Over the next year, the BNE will review the rules of the BVNE. Most of the LVN rules are similar if not the same as rules of the BNE. It is anticipated that rules pertaining to LVNs will be incorporated into the rules of the BNE. Significant changes created by House Bill 1483 include adding safe harbor protections, mandatory reporting and the reporting of minor incidents for LVNs. Pertinent BNE rules will be amended to include LVNs in these areas. A specific new requirement for licensed vocational nurses is added by Texas Occupations Code Annotated §§ 301.252 and 301.257 requiring that all nurses possess good professional character. The BNE rule regarding character will be amended to apply to LVNs.

The telephone contact numbers for the BNE are 512/305-7400 (phone) or 512/305-7401 (fax). For specific programs, see page 11. The agency has increased our customer service lines to accommodate additional inquiries. The BNE website has been expanded to include information, forms, rules, and position statements pertaining to vocational nurses. (See www.bne.state.tx.us).

Gone are the RN Update and the Lone Star Nurse, former newsletters of the boards. The Texas Board of Nursing Bulletin becomes the vehicle for sharing information with all nurses. It will be published four times a year. Each issue will be available on the website following publication and the BNE will mail a copy to each nurse unless budgetary constraints limit our ability to print and mail this publication.

Nurses may note certain changes that result from state budget reductions such as reducing paper, printing, and postage costs through the online renewal process. Other changes are motivated by attempts to increase efficiency (customer service line). But, overall, the single board provides an opportunity to promote more consistency in the regulation of nurses. It offers one-stop-shopping for nurses, employers, and consumers who need to obtain information about nurses. I welcome your thoughts and suggestions. You may email suggestions through the Board's website at webmaster@bne.state.tx.us.

Summary of Proposed and Adopted Rules/Board Actions

The following proposed rule changes were published in the March 26, 2004, issue of the Texas Register with a 30-day comment period:

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the adoption of amendments to §§211.1 - 211.6, concerning General Provisions. These proposed amendments implement HB 1483 and the make-up and function of the new Board of Nurse Examiners.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the adoption of amendments to §§213.1, 213.10, 213.13, 213.23, and 213.26 - 213.32 concerning Practice and Procedure. These proposed amendments implement HB 1483 and the make-up and function of the new Board of Nurse Examiners. The inclusion of licensed vocational nurses in these amendments creates a consistent disciplinary process for all nurses.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the repeal of 22 Texas Administrative Code, chapter 231, concerning Administration, Subchapter A concerning Definitions, §§231.1; §§231.11 - 231.20, 231.22 - 231.27, 231.29 - 231.50 in Subchapter B concerning General Practice and Procedure; §§231.61, 231.63, 231.64, 231.67, and 231.69 of Subchapter C concerning Board Rules. These proposed repeals prevent conflicting provisions addressing Board functions and make-up.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the repeal of 22 Texas Administrative Code, Subchapter A, §235.19 concerning Licensure of Persons With Criminal Convictions. This proposed repeal is for the purpose of preventing conflicting rules regarding the effect of criminal convictions on the licensing process.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the repeal of 22 Texas Administrative Code, Subchapter B (Board Review of Application), §§235.21 - 235.25.

This proposed repeal is for the purpose of preventing conflicting rules regarding the determination of a nurse's eligibility for licensure which is required to be through a declaration of eligibility under the new statutes.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposed the repeal of 22 Texas Administrative Code, Subchapter B (Enforcement), §§239.12 - 239.15, 239.17 - 239.19. This proposed repeal is for the purpose of preventing conflicting rules regarding the determination of a nurse's eligibility for licensure when they have an issue involving criminal convictions, mental fitness, or chemical dependency.

The Board of Nurse Examiners proposes the repeal of 22 Texas Administrative Code, Subchapter C (Hearings Process), §§239.21 - 239.36 and Subchapter D (Informal Dispositions), §§239.41 - 239.51. This proposed repeal is for the purpose of preventing conflict with the rules in 22 TAC Chapter 213.

The proposed rule changes listed above may be viewed at www.sos.state.tx.us, in the offices of the Board of Nurse Examiners or in the Texas Register Office, Room 245, James Earl Rudder Building, 1019 Brazos Street, Austin, Texas.

A regular meeting of the Board of Nurse Examiners was held January 22-23, 2004 in Austin. The following is a summary of proposed and adopted rules and Board actions taken during this meeting.

Texas Medical Foundation's Immunization Initiative

By Doris Moran, RN, Quality Improvement Specialist, Texas Medical Foundation

Effective October 2, 2002, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) removed its requirement from its Conditions of Participation that a physician must write an individual order for each influenza and pneumococcal polysaccharide vaccination given to hospitalized patients. This new CMS rule paves the way for improved adult vaccination coverage rates and subsequently decreased morbidity and mortality rates from influenza and pneumonia. Screening and vaccination of inpatients is recommended as at-risk patients may not get these highly effective vaccines if the opportunity is missed.

Existing regulations put forth by both the Board of Nurse Examiners (BNE) and the Board of Medical Examiners (BME) permit the administration of these immunizations by nurses provided criteria enumerated in the regulations are followed. First, Section 301.002 of the Nursing Practice Act (NPA) authorizes RNs and LVNs to "administer medications and treatments as ordered by a physician, podiatrist, or dentist." This may include what are commonly referred to as physician "standing orders."

Physician "standing" orders are defined in the BME's Rule 193.2 as either "standing medical orders," which are orders for the care of patient populations after being seen by the physician, or "standing delegation orders," which are orders for the care of patient populations who have not been seen by a physician. In addition, the BNE has a Position Statement 15.5, titled: "Registered Nurses With Responsibility for Initiating Physician Standing Orders" that provides nurses guidance with regard to the role they may play in implementing orders in this manner (position statements may be viewed in their entirety on the BNE's web page at www.bne.state.tx.us). Provided that the standing order does not involve the exercise of medical judgment on the part of the nurse, RNs and LVNs may implement standing orders including orders for immunizations. Remember that the nurse always has the responsibility to clarify orders he/she believes to be "inaccurate, non-efficacious, or contraindicated" prior to implementation [BNE Rule 217.11(19)].

Another change brought about by the new CMS rule relates to obtaining informed consent for a vaccination. It now makes administration of an immunization synonymous with administration of an antibiotic. When antibiotics are ordered, the patient is not asked to sign a separate consent for this treatment; however, allergic reactions are more prevalent in relation to antibiotics than to influenza and pneumococcal vaccines. Further information on consent for immunizations may be accessed at: <http://archinte.ama-assn.org/cgi/content/abstract/164/1/13>.

Where allowed by state law, appropriate non-physician personnel may also provide these vaccinations under a physician-approved standing order without the need for physician examination and a client-specific order. The change in Federal Regulation may be read in its entirety at <http://www.cms.gov/providerupdate/regs/cms3160fc.pdf>.

The Texas Medical Foundation (TMF) hosted a WebEx teleconference on March 17, 2004 that included the BNE's perspective on nurses implementing standing orders. The presentation was recorded and is now available on line at www.tmf.org/hospitalqi.

TMF is the Quality Improvement Organization (QIO) for the State of Texas and is under the direction of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). CMS is a federal agency within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. CMS has contracted with TMF to work with hospitals on specific quality initiatives, including improving rates of immunization for influenza and pneumonia. Other specific quality initiatives are Acute Myocardial Infarction, Heart Failure, Community Acquired Pneumonia and Surgical Infection Prevention.

For more information about hospital-based vaccinations or how nurses are involved in any of the quality initiatives, please contact Doris Moran, RN, at dmoran@txqio.sdps.org or call (512) 329-6610, ext 688.

In accordance with § 301.158, Texas Occupations Code, the Board disseminates information "that is of significant interest to nurses and employers of nurses in Texas." As part of its Strategic Plan for the agency, the Board has identified the need for regular input on nursing practice, licensure, and education. The guest column in Texas Board of Nursing Bulletin is one way of meeting that need. Comments regarding this column should be addressed to the Editor at the Board's address. The opinions expressed in the guest column are those of the author.

Practice Question and Answer

By Carol Marshall, MSN, RN, and Jolene Zych, MS, RNC, WHNP

Question: I am a registered nurse and am frequently asked to administer “conscious sedation” to patients undergoing routine outpatient procedures. Lately, I have had a number of physicians asking me to administer propofol for this purpose. None of these patients are intubated. Can I do this under the Nursing Practice Act?

Answer: Position Statement 15.8 relates to RNs administering moderate (i.e. conscious) sedation. This statement emphasizes that “moderate sedation” is defined as a medication-induced, medically controlled state of depressed consciousness. The literature and guidelines available from the anesthesia experts are very clear that while under moderate sedation, the patient must retain the ability to independently and continuously maintain a patent airway and cardiovascular function and be able to respond appropriately to physical stimulation or verbal commands at all times. Loss of consciousness for patients undergoing moderate sedation should not be the goal, and pharmacologic agents used for moderate sedation should render this result unlikely. If the patient requires painful or repeated stimulation for arousal and/or airway maintenance, this is considered deep sedation, i.e., protective reflexes are lost, and is likely beyond the scope of practice for the registered nurse who is not authorized by the Board as a nurse anesthetist.

Although propofol (also known as Diprivan) is classified as a sedative/hypnotic, it is intended for use as an anesthetic agent or for the purpose of maintaining sedation of an intubated, mechanically ventilated patient based on the product information brochure. The clinical effects for patients receiving anesthetic agents may vary widely within a negligible dose range. As a result, patients may unintentionally and quite easily be converted to deep sedation or anesthesia. If this conversion occurs in a patient that is not appropriately monitored and/or does not have appropriate airway support, this can become a life-threatening emergency for the patient. This is not consistent with the concept of moderate sedation as defined in the BNE position statement or the professional literature. Although the RN (and the physician performing the procedure) may have demonstrated competence in advanced cardiac life support (ACLS) procedures, it is unlikely that the RN and/or physician in this situation are experts in airway management and emergency intubation, even though they may practice these techniques during ACLS training programs. The texts commonly used in current ACLS courses repeatedly caution ACLS providers not to assume that passing the course assures competency in certain advanced skills, specifically tracheal intubation. One such cautionary statement says: “Repeated safe and effective placement of the tracheal tube, over the wide range of patient and environmental conditions encountered in resuscitation, requires considerable skill and experience. Unless initial training is sufficient and ongoing practice and experience are adequate, fatal complications may result.”¹

You may also wish to note that the product information brochure for propofol includes a warning that only persons trained to administer general anesthesia should administer propofol for purposes of general anesthesia or for monitored anesthesia care sedation. The Board defined “monitored anesthesia care” in Rule 221.1(9) as “. . . situations where a patient undergoing a diagnostic or therapeutic procedure receive[s] doses of medication that create a risk of loss of normal protective reflexes or loss of consciousness and the patient remains able to protect the airway for the majority of the procedure. . . .” The patient receiving propofol is at increased risk for loss of consciousness and/or normal protective reflexes, regardless of whether a qualified anesthesia provider is providing “monitored anesthesia care” sedation or a RN is administering moderate sedation. Again, this is not consistent with the concept of moderate sedation outlined in the professional literature and the BNE’s position statement.

The nurse’s duty to assure patient safety [Rule 217.11(5)] supercedes any physician order or facility policy.² When determining whether you should accept this assignment, staff strongly recommends that you review both Position Statement 15.8 and the Standards of Professional Nursing Practice found in BNE Rule 217.11. Both are available on the BNE web site at www.bne.state.tx.us. When considering suggestions or statements regarding administration of propofol or similar drugs to non-intubated patients, the RN should exercise caution if these statements are offered by individuals or groups who are not experts in the field of airway management/anesthesia. You may wish to review the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists’ position on this issue as well.

TDPRS Reporting Procedure for Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation: Secure Online Web Site Available for Reporting of Non-Emergency Situations

All reports of child abuse/neglect and abuse/neglect/exploitation of persons 65 years or older and adults with disabilities are routed through the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services (PRS) Statewide Intake Hotline (SWI). In addition to the 1-800 number, the agency has developed a SECURE web site designed specifically for professionals to report suspected abuse/neglect/exploitation via the internet.

This web site is intended only for use by professionals who are:

- * required by the Texas Family Code (TFC) 261.101 to report child abuse/neglect no later than the 48th hour after the hour they first suspect that a child has been or may be abused or neglected. Professionals who are required to report child abuse/neglect include teachers, nurses, doctors, attorneys, day-care employees, clergy, medical practitioners, social workers, mental health professionals, employees of clinics or health care facilities that provide reproductive services, juvenile probation officers, and juvenile detention or correctional officers;
AND
- * required by the Human Services Code, Chapter 48 (48.051) to report immediately abuse, neglect, or exploitation to persons 65 years or older or adults with disabilities.

Professionals are encouraged to use this web site to report non-emergency situations to PRS. The web site should not be used to report life threatening or emergency situations. In those cases, you should contact your local law enforcement agency or 911. To access the website, professionals are required to have a "user name" and "password." The user name and password are the same for all professionals accessing the website.

The link to the reporting web site is: <https://reportabuse.ws>
(You MUST include the "s" in "https://" above to access the site.) Users will then be prompted for a user name and a password.

The login name is: professional

IMPOSTOR WARNING

If you have any knowledge or information regarding the employment practices of the following individual(s), please contact the Board's Enforcement Division immediately at (512) 305-6838.

Burner Jean Scott, a.k.a. Burner Jean Lucky

Burner Jean Scott secured employment as a registered nurse with an Independent School District in McClennan County, Texas, and worked from October 12, 1992 through August 25, 2003. On or about August 9, 2003, a representative for the school district consortium group found a discrepancy in Ms. Scott's RN license number. After reviewing Ms. Scott's information, they noticed her license number had seven (7) numbers instead of six (6). The representative contacted the supervisor of Personnel Services and asked her to double check Ms. Scott's license number. They believed a clerical error had been made because there was one too many numbers. The supervisor went back to review Ms. Scott's file and discovered that this was not a clerical error, in fact, the actual copy of Ms. Scott's RN license card listed seven (7) numbers. On August 11, 2003, the supervisor contacted the Board of Nurse Examiners to verify licensure. Ms. Scott had provided a copy of her RN license with her picture on it that was signed by an individual other than the Executive Director for the Board of Nurse Examiners. On August 25, 2003, the Director of Human Resources, presented the information to Ms. Scott. Ms. Scott never admitted that she made a fraudulent license, however, she was asked to resign effective immediately. The Board has referred the case to the McClennan County District Attorney's office.

Maryanne Pille Salamanca

Maryanne Pille Salamanca secured employment as a Graduate Nurse (GN) with a hospice agency in Addison, Texas. Ms. Salamanca did not hold a permit to practice as a GN from the Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas. Ms. Salamanca practiced as a GN from June 3, 2003 through approximately August 2003. Ms. Salamanca was making visits with a preceptor and then in July 2003, Ms. Salamanca was observed making patient visits alone. This information was brought to the administrator's attention, but staff was assured that no patients were being seen by Ms. Salamanca without a preceptor. In August 2003, the administrator informed staff that Ms. Salamanca had passed the State Board Exam. Maryanne Pille Salamanca began to practice professional nursing in the State of Texas without a valid license from August 2003 through approximately September 30, 2003. The Board has referred the case to the Dallas County District Attorney's office.

In the following article, the Texas Department of Health is seeking clients who may qualify for medical case management services in the following categories: (1) children, ages birth through age 20, who have health conditions or health risks and (2) pregnant women with high-risk medical conditions. This information is provided as a public service to nurses who may know of patients who would benefit from the case management services offered by the Texas Department of Health.

Case Management for Children and Pregnant Women

On September 1, 2003, the Texas Health Steps Medical Case Management and Targeted Case Management for High Risk Pregnant Women and Infants merged to become Case Management for Children and Pregnant Women (CPW). CPW is a case management program that provides health related case management services to eligible children and pregnant women.

Eligibility for CPW

A person must be Medicaid eligible and a:

Child (birth through age 20) with a health condition or health risk. Health condition or health risk is defined as a medical condition, illness, injury or disability that results in limitation of function, activities or social roles in comparison with same age peers in the general areas of physical, cognitive, emotional or social growth and development. There must also be a need for services to prevent illness(es) or medical condition(s), to maintain function or to slow further deterioration of the condition and desire for health related case management services.

OR

Pregnant woman with a high-risk condition during pregnancy. There must also be a need for services to prevent illness(es) or medical condition(s), to maintain function or to slow further deterioration of the condition and desire for health related case management services.

CPW case managers must provide services directly with the client or with the parent/legal guardian if the client is under the age of 18.

CPW case managers submit requests to the Texas Department of Health for determination of eligibility for case management services. Licensed social workers and registered nurses provide CPW services.

To make a referral, call the THSteps Outreach and Informing line 1-877-THSTEPS (747-8377) or call a CPW case management provider in your area. A list of CPW providers can be found on the TDH Case Management Website, www.tdh.state.tx.us/caseman/caseman.htm
